

Harlequin School of Gymnastics competed in a National Final in less than a year of starting a new discipline. The club started Teamgym in August 2011. This is where they perform a floor routine with up to 12 competitors at once. Then 6 of the team perform tumblers, then a trampet section and a trampet vault, all performed to music. The club qualified from a Regional competition in Scotland in March. They then went onto compete in the National Final in May in Gloucester . They scored 37.95 which was a whole mark more than in March. This put them in 8th place against 14 qualifying teams. They are 8th in the country at Primary Teamgym.

Well done to all the girls and coaches who put in a lot of hard work!
